“THIS & THAT”

Jayne Behman, Julie Fish, and Patti Robbins

Jayne Behman is a digital artist who has been producing original compositions using this technology and iPad platform for over 10 years. Her digital paintings and collages are intricate, soulful, and inspiring. She breaks away from the 2-d presentation on white metal and acrylic HD prints to animation shown on monitors. The body of work at Gallery Los Olivos offers the viewer portraits and a glimpse into her upcoming series EAT.

Julie Fish's paintings and ceramics for "THIS & THAT" are different because Julie feels transformed as an artist. Recovering from a broken leg last June, she couldn't stand and work her 'intuitive technique' seeing images in shapes and then creating the painting around that image. Changing positions made her more inventive as a painter. The realization that she is driven to paint reinforced her love of painting and creativity more than ever!

Patti Robbins is an oil painter who prefers still life painting in her Arroyo Grande studio. She composes complex compositions using colorful pottery, flowers from her gardens, and dynamic bold patterned fabrics and natural light for shadow effects. Her viewpoint is non traditional and adds a contemporary flair to her canvases.
